Broad Areas Held In Firm Grip

Loss In Crops, Property Mounts In Severe Drought

CHICAGO (AP) — Autumn's severe prolonged drought held a firm grip on broad areas of the nation from the Southern Plains to New England today.

Drought conditions, forest fires and water shortages continued to plague many sections. Losses to crops and property mounted into the millions of dollars.

There appeared no prospect of an immediate, general break in autumn's extended dry and unseasonably warm weather. Record high temperatures in the 80s in many parts of the dry belt heightened the fire danger in many of the parched woodlands.

The Weather Bureau in Washington said drought conditions continued unabated in most of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, the southern third of Missouri and across most of the country east of the Mississippi River except for parts of Illinois.

Ohio has not had measurable rain for 42 days. Many other sections in the drought region have reported rainless days and summer-like temperatures for the past several weeks. Rain fell across scattered sections in the Central States the past few days, bringing a measure of relief to the farm lands.

But the Weather Bureau predicted rainfall in the Eastern quarter of the nation — where the forest fires are the most critical — will be below normal for the next 30 days. Nearly normal rainfall was forecast for the Central region and above seasonal amounts in the western Corn Belt.

State forestlands in New York, New England and in areas in the South and Midwest have been closed to lessen the fire hazard. Officials have halted hunting and fishing in some states. It appeared likely the drought and forest fires will force postponement of the big game (bear, deer) hunting season in northern New York, scheduled to open Friday.

Millions of people, including residents in New York City, were urged to conserve water.

Probe Bid Held Up

Board Deadlocks On Vote Charges

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown will be asked to break a 2-2 tie that developed in a County Election Board meeting Wednesday afternoon on a question whether to refer to Prosecutor G. William Brokaw a charge that state laws against bribery and unsigned political advertisements were broken in newspaper ads published Oct. 17 by East Palestine Republican candidates for municipal offices.

Voting on a question raised formally by Atty. Robert S. Hartford, East Palestine Democratic chairman, the four-member Election Board split on party lines.

CARL L. Stacey and Don Gosney of Columbiana, the Democratic members, voted in favor of Gosney's motion to refer Atty. Hartford's complaint to the prosecuting attorney, asking him to convene a special session of the Grand Jury. Atty. Charles A. Pike of Lisbon, Atty. James L. McSweeney opposed the motion. Gosney is also county Democratic chairman.

Following the state law in case of a tie, the Election Board will refer the question to the secretary of state, who will cast the deciding vote.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, Election Board clerk, said the question will be referred to Brown in writing, then the board will await his reply.

The board argued Atty. Hartford's charges for nearly an hour before the vote was taken.

The attorney sent the board a letter which he termed a "formal complaint" against the GOP advertisements in the East Palestine Daily Leader of Oct. 17. In his letter, he cited sections of the state code referring to bribery and unsigned political communications. He pointed out in his letter one of the ads was signed "Republican Candidates," while the other bore no signature.

THE ATTORNEY'S action stirred up again a long-standing feud between Democratic and Republican leaders over the status of two men who served on East Palestine Council, then were named to Civil Service posts in the Highway Department.

As the controversy reached its height, the two resigned from their Council seats, but their names still appear on the Nov. 5 East Palestine ballot as candidates for new terms.

The two sought to withdraw from the November ballot, but by the time they acted they were advised the deadline for removing their names already had passed.

The two are Chester Whitehouse, who was Council president, and Charles Brant, who was Second Ward councilman. Both are Republicans.

In the meantime, Frank Early has been named Council president and Richard Miller has been chosen to fill the vacancy in the Second Ward.

THE newspaper advertisement signed "Republican candidates" pledged that if the present Republican councilmen are re-elected in East Palestine they will continue Early and Miller in their posts. The advertisement was called "an open letter."

Although the names of Whitehouse and Miller appear on the ballot and they may be elected, they already have warned they will not qualify or serve.

As the Election Board discussion opened on Atty. Hartford's charges, Atty. Pike said there probably was a "technical violation" of the law against unsigned political advertisements.

"The top section of the advertisement was signed 'Republican Candidates,'" he said. "There should have been the name and address of some person. If you want to stretch a point you might say those people had those ads in there on their own. As far as bribery is concerned, I say there wasn't any."

"I think there was," Gosney replied. "They're promising to appoint someone to office if they're elected."

"The intent of the law is to cover personal benefit to the voter in return for his vote," Atty. Pike replied.

"IF I SAY that if I'm elected

House Group Delays Vote On Rights Bill

Personal Hand Is Taken By Kennedy In Bid For Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has taken a personal hand in an attempt to win passage this year of a civil rights bill.

But the best the President could get out of a White House conference with House leaders Wednesday night, informed sources said, was a decision to delay until next Tuesday a crucial committee vote on a bill which the administration feels is too strong to get through Congress.

Informed sources disclosed Wednesday night's one-hour meeting at the White House. Present were House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass.; Democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma; Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and his assistant, Leslie C. Arends of Illinois; and Reps. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., and William M. McCulloch of Ohio, chairman and ranking Republican member of the House Judiciary Committee.

Later it was learned that a House Judiciary Committee meeting scheduled for today will be postponed until next Tuesday, giving administration forces another chance to swing more committee votes behind a compromise civil rights bill more in line with the President's midsummer proposals to Congress.

Administration sources said Tuesday that they had convinced some Northern and Western Democrats on the committee to vote against the stronger bill on grounds that such a measure would be defeated in the House and might cripple any hope for civil rights legislation this year.

U.S. Big Lift Moves Into Last Stages

Indications Point To Its Completion Ahead Of Schedule

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Exercise Big Lift moved swiftly and efficiently ahead today with all indications pointing to completion ahead of schedule for the historic airlift of more than 15,000 American troops from Texas almost to the iron curtain.

By 9 a.m. (3 a.m. Eastern Standard Time) 162 of the big four-engine transports had brought 10,109 men of the 2nd Armored Division to bases in West Germany and France. Military spokesman thought the bulk of the transatlantic ferry job would be completed by 10 p.m.—some 63 hours after the first C135 jet took off from Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin, Tex.

The Army and Air Force had set a 72-hour deadline for completion of the biggest airlift in U.S. history.

The last of the 234 airlift planes left Bergstrom base just before midnight and headed for Germany at 600 miles an hour.

"Smoothest thing I've ever seen," said Brig. Gen. R. H. Safford. "I'm sure that in a tighter situation we can even beat this clock."

Big Lift's clockwork operation and assurances by top American officers did not quiet the fears of West German officials and newspapers that the airlift presaged a reduction of American troops in Europe.

The worrying Germans believe the United States will argue that it has demonstrated its ability to ferry large numbers of troops over quickly to meet threats of trouble and the 250,000 U. S. troops in Europe therefore can be reduced.

A high U.S. official in Washington already has said that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will announce on a visit to West Germany this weekend that the United States does not expect to cut its forces in Europe.

2 Lanes Will Open

Partial Freeway Use Due Monday

Two lanes of the new Freeway segment between the city limits and Route 170 will be opened Monday, allowing southbound traffic only, and the balance of the 1.5-mile improvement probably will be ready for use by Thanksgiving.

That announcement was made jointly today by the Division 11 office of the State Highway Department in New Philadelphia and the Great Lakes Construction Co. of Cleveland, general contractor.

NO CEREMONY is planned for the opening of the first two lanes, but a formal dedication program will be held when the balance of the $2.8 million road is finished and ready for use, according to the highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Effective Monday, southbound traffic will be routed onto the two westerly lanes of the Freeway extension at State Route 170, near Calcutta.

That will give inbound motorists "super-highway" travel all the way to W. 3rd and Monroe Sts., where an earlier segment of the Freeway tapers into a normal two-lane city street.

But outbound traffic will continue to follow its present course, turning off the first segment of the Freeway onto entering present Route 30 to Route 170 at Substation.

MIKE PIERRY JR., superintendent for Great Lakes, said the date for completion of the two easterly lanes of the Freeway extension "hinges on weather," but the contractor hopes the job will be finished by Thanksgiving.

Some work remains to be done on a section of the median divider. The contractor expects to finish it before freezing weather so that it will not be necessary to heat the newly-poured concrete.

"I hope the public will drive carefully over the newly-opened section for the next few weeks, because we will have men working there," the superintendent said.

Great Lakes started the job 14 months ago — on Aug. 20, 1962.

THE TWO SEGMENTS represent the southernmost end of what eventually will be the Lake Erie — Ohio River Highway—State Route 11 — stretching

Contracts Let For Midland Water Project

Groundbreaking Set In Expansion Costing $322,464

The Midland Municipal Authority Wednesday night signed the contracts for expansion of the water treatment facility and advised contractors that construction may begin as soon as the federal government gives final approval.

Groundbreaking ceremonies are scheduled Monday afternoon at 2.30.

The contract for general construction in the amount of $289,700 was awarded to the Pitt Construction Co. of Pittsburgh; the plumbing and heating contract for $16,950, to the W. R. Davis Co. of Pittsburgh, and the electrical contract to the Rawding Electric Service, Inc., of Beaver Falls for $15,814, for a total cost of $322,464.

The expansion will consist of an 18-foot addition to the building which houses the water treatment facility, two more filters of 500,000 gallon daily capacity and larger chemical mixture and sludge removal basins. The office also will be enlarged in the expansion, with the aid of a $141,000 loan from the Urban Renewal Administration under the Federal Accelerated Public Works Program.

Sam Canson of Aliquippa was hired as auditor of the special construction fund, in accordance with federal requirements that Dresden Ave. and then follow an auditor not connected with

No Major Damage Is Anticipated

Won't Roar Ashore Within 12 Hours, Forecasters Say

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Ginny lashed Florida's upper east coast with gales today as she crept closer to land.

But the Weather Bureau said Ginny probably wouldn't whip ashore within the next 12 hours. Even if she did, forecaster Gordon Dunn said, "there should be no major damage."

Ginny Might Bring Rain In Few Days

It's an ill wind — and hurricane — that doesn't blow somebody some good.

With Hurricane Ginny slated to hit the upper coast of East Florida, Eastern Ohio farmers kept their fingers crossed for possible rain as "fringe benefits" of the blow down South.

Several times in the past, hurricanes that reached into the East Coast have produced atmospheric disturbances that spread across the Appalachians a few days later, usually accompanied by rain. Whether Ginny co-operates remains to be seen.

But the Ohio weatherman's view is still obscured by the dust and heat of the current dry spell — the forecast is sunny and warm today and Friday. It will be fair and mild tonight.

In New York For Address Americans Seek Efficient Legislators, Rhodes Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes, here to address the Ohio Society of New York tonight, said Americans have a burning desire for economy and efficiency in government.

The Republican governor, whose fiscal policies have attracted national attention, said Wednesday night he would plug Ohio's industrial climate in his first out-of-state address since inauguration last January.

"The economic condition of any government area — city, county, or state — reflects the economic condition of the government which guides its destinies," Rhodes told newsmen.

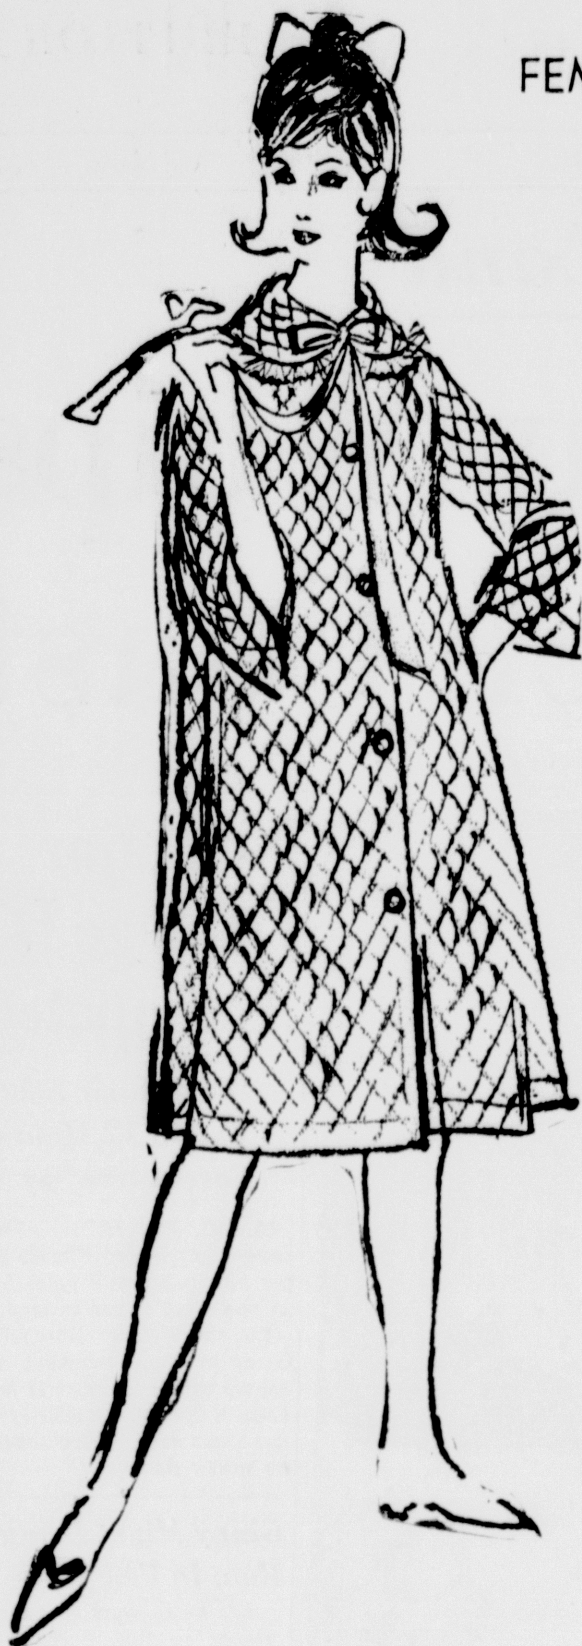

My administration has restored fiscal integrity to Ohio and commenced a hard drive for expansion of existing industry and the location of new industry.

"We seek the total development of Ohio's economy."

Rhodes reiterated earlier claims that his program can be accomplished without new taxes. He said an $83 million deficit inherited from former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, a Democrat, already has been cut to $21 million and he predicted the state will be in the black next year.

Voting Board Deadlocks In Political Case

sheriff, I'll appoint you deputy, that's against the law," Gosney replied. "They promised to appoint men to jobs that pay a salary."

"Where's the bribery?" Atty. McSweeney asked.

"You can't promise anyone anything when you're a candidate," Gosney said.

After a little more discussion, Gosney propounded the motion on which the board later voted. Although it was amended several times, in its final form the motion requested the prosecutor to call a special session of the Grand Jury to investigate Hartford's charges regarding the newspaper ad.

Stacey seconded the motion, but no vote was taken immediately.

Then Atty. Pike requested that City Solicitor Jack Cohen of East Palestine be admitted to the meeting to "explain the background of this advertisement."

At the outset, the solicitor conceded that "the signature portion of the law was violated, if you read the letter of the law."

But he said he feels the intent of the law is to prevent unsigned advertisements in which the identity of the person who places the ad remains unknown.

"BUT IN A community of 5,000, I feel there is no one who wouldn't know the name and address of every candidate," he said. "I'm not trying to justify that portion, but I feel it was not in disregard of the law," he said. "Whoever compiled that ad had the authority of the Republican candidates because it had been discussed thoroughly."

Cohen said the advertisement was published because various Republican candidates were deluged with telephone enquiries on the state of the offices of Council president and Second Ward councilman. He said the advertisement was placed "as a method of informing the public."

Continuing, he said: "As far as bribery, before you proceed, you have to realize: 1. It's a criminal section and any criminal statute is to be strictly construed. 2. You have to have a criminal intent before any prosecution can be carried on."

THE SOLICITOR continued: "Bribery is giving or offering to give something of value to voters in order to obtain their votes. What were the voters given in this advertisement other than information?"

"If I run for county engineer and pick out some popular man and say I will appoint him county superintendent if I'm elected, it's bribery," Gosney said.

"There's a serious question if that's bribery," Cohen said.

"It's backed up by court decisions," Gosney responded.

"The candidates weren't offering anything; they were explaining the situation to the voters," Cohen said. "You can't prove bribery if there was no criminal intent."

Then Cohen explained the background of the case — how Whitehouse and Brant sought to withdraw, but could not, and how they had announced they would not serve if elected.

GOSNEY contended repeatedly the two still are candidates because their names appear on the ballot.

Atty. McSweeney read the statute on election bribery and added: "This was written to prevent any person from offering a thing of value to win votes."

"They're offering to appoint two men to public office," Gosney replied.

"Technicalities occur in every election," Atty. Pike said. "If one side wants to keep bringing them up, we'll be running to the prosecutor every election. The basis of all this is politics. You're interested in the Democratic party getting a foothold in East Palestine. You're trying to get us in a bind, but we won't let you."

"I agree there was a technical the municipal authority be assigned to this duty.

The authority's consulting engineering firm, Michael Baker Jr., Inc., was requested to complete specifications for the proposed water line from the reservoir to the borough line at Ohioville, so that the project may be advertised for bids at the next meeting.

The engineer was also requested to prepare specifications for chemicals and supplies for next year.

It was announced that several members of the authority had met with officials of the Crucible Steel Co. and advised the firm of the need for additional raw water when the expansion has been completed. The authority asked that the present contract to supply raw water be extended until 1973. Crucible is to inform the authority of the results of a study of the request.

The authority decided to bill Midland Council at $400 each for three "tap" water hydrants installed at the new ice skating rinks at the playgrounds on 1st and 10th Sts.

nical violation of the signature statute, but I don't think it warrants calling a special session of the Grand Jury."

"ATTY. MCSWEENEY added that he feels the Election Board should investigate such complaints and 'not ship them all over to the prosecutor at once.'"

Atty. McSweeney added that he felt Gosney's motion to refer the complaint to the prosecutor should list the sections of the state law cited by Atty. Hartford.

"We're going to refer the whole complaint," Gosney said. "I see no need to list the code sections."

Both Atty. Pike and Atty. McSweeney said they feel the Election Board should send a letter to all county newspapers, cautioning them on the law on unsigned ads and warning them to guard against violations. O'Hanlon pointed out letters explaining the law — along with copies of the statute — were sent to all newspapers several years ago when the law first was enacted.

Here's the section of the advertisement signed "Republican Candidates" which Gosney contended amounted to a violation of the "bribe" statute:

"The present councilmen, providing they are re-elected, will fill their (Whitehouse and Brant) vacancies with the present appointed office holders—Frank Early as Council president and Richard Miller as Second Ward councilman."

IT WAS THE smaller of the two GOP ads, both of which appeared on Page 2 of the Leader.

Underneath was a large advertisement with photos of 10 GOP candidates, headed "Vote Republican." Whitehouse and Brant were not included. There were blank white spaces over the captions: "Council president" and "Second Ward councilman."

The split vote on Gosney's motion came at 3:15, after 45 minutes of discussion.

Then O'Hanlon pointed out that state law requires the secretary of state to cast the deciding vote.

"We'll leave it up to him," Stacey replied.

That ended the discussion and the meeting adjourned shortly afterward.

Burglar Quiz Continued In Midland Area

A hearing set Wednesday night for one of three men arrested in a series of burglaries in the Midland area was continued to give authorities more time to question the trio on other unsolved cases going back to February.

The three, Pedro Lopes Jr., 26, and William J. Sisco, 18, both of Industry R. D. 1, and Alonzo Williams, 21, of Penn Ave., Midland, have been accused of about six burglaries reported this month, including one in East Liverpool and another attempted here.

The trio was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Police Chief Bernie Zlatovich of Ohioville, with the aid of Midland, Industry and Brighton Township police.

Lopes and Sisco pleaded guilty Tuesday night in a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Paul McGeehan at Midland and Williams pleaded innocent and was due another hearing last night.

The Industry area pair is accused of entries at the Beaver High School and elementary school and Army Joe's surplus store in Brighton Township, while Williams has denied entries at Army Joe's and at the William Humphrey residence in Ohioville.

East Liverpool police accused Lopes and Sisco of burglary of the Goodyear Service Store on Walnut St. and attempted entry of the Adkins Furniture Store on Harvey Ave.

A large quantity of loot was recovered at the home shared jointly by Lopes and Sisco, where Williams also was arrested.

At this morning's session, English said, "While the majority of businesses did accept the workers very graciously and in some cases did give more than their fair share, a number of our leading merchants refused to co-operate by accepting their fair share, and in some cases gave nothing."

Rechecks are expected to be made with some solicited concerns to further explain the united contribution program of the drive which has four new agencies this year in a move to save campaign expenses and consolidate drives for the convenience of donors.

Dawson and Honicky said Friday reports are expected to boost contributions to over 50 per cent of the total quota, and both expressed confidence the campaign will reach its goal.

Without A Real Hitch

Everybody has a firm idea about what was proved by the spectacular aerial transportation demonstration that moved 16,000 U.S. soldiers from U.S. bases to West Germany in a matter of hours.

The firmest of the firm ideas is likely to be that the United States is about to solve one of the toughest problems that confronts conquering nations—how to cope with the garrison state.

This country has been maintaining a garrison state in West Germany since the end of World War II. It has been maintaining another in Korea. It is in imminent danger of being bogged down in another garrison setup in South Viet Nam.

In lesser degrees, it is involved in the garrison state dilemma in dozens of places throughout the world. It is going broke maintaining garrisons in every trouble spot on earth where it feels an obligation to lend a hand.

The troops could be garrisoned at home. Their pay would be spent here. They could be rotated frequently; there would be no need to provide transportation and housing for their families.

BY KEEPING them on the move, the government could avert the camaraderie on the one hand and the hatred on the other that garrison-state life generates.

It could sidestep some of the corruption that goes when militarism settles down too long in one place and learns "to live off the land."

If the West Germans, the European Allies, the Koreans and others can be assured of "instant aid" via airlift, the need for garrison states and many of the evils thereof can be removed.

Simultaneously, many of America's post-war problems would disappear.

Let's Be Sensible

East Liverpool and her neighbors are getting ready to don Halloween costumes again and join in the annual fun-making.

In recent years, the area has been comparatively free of the many thoughtless pranks which left a bad taste during too many Halloweens of days gone by. Our youngsters deserve a world of credit for the way in which they have turned Halloween into a time of merriment rather than destruction.

In view of the drought conditions, it is even more important this year that Halloweeners take a sensible approach in their fun-making. With firemen virtually on round-the-clock duty because of the dry weather, false alarms are one thing that certainly can be done without.

"Trick-and-treaters" can perform an important service if they confine their activities to accepted practices.

Another Dark Cloud Looms

Discovery by Willard P. Dudley, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, which includes Ohio State Employment Service, that records had been falsified in the Cleveland area office puts every other area office on guard and may put some on the defensive.

Furthermore, while investigators go forward with their job of looking into records in Cleveland elsewhere, the discovery in Cleveland puts one more dark cloud over the composite statistics on employment and unemployment in the United States.

The raw information and projections on which the national totals are based depend on the reliability of the sources. There is no such thing as an actual count of employed and unemployed, only samplings and reportings.

Many persons carried along in composite projections of unemployment are not in fact unemployed, in the sense of being breadwinners needing a job. Many persons make applications for jobs in case something turns up to their liking. If nothing turns up, they settle for the status quo.

There always has been something fishy about unemployment statistics that marked no difference between college students looking for summer jobs and heads of families looking for permanent employment; between hausfraus willing to take part-time jobs and widows needing full-time work.

If it were to turn out that on top of everything else people actually in a position to know what's going on had been fooling with the statistics, the employment - unemployment totals on which so much public policy depends wouldn't be worth the paper the handouts are printed on.

How about this for a psychological weapon at Friday night's football game between the East Liverpool Potters and Weirton?

From the West Virginia Associated Press wire comes this paragraph among predictions for the weekend: "Weirton 25, East Liverpool 7. Don't know much about the Ohioans, but everyone knows about Weirton."

Even though the AP said it and not Weirton, the obvious answer is to make everybody hear about East Liverpool by handing the visitors their first defeat.

Signs Of The Times

Erection of standards for the new lighting system in the business district and two big signs on Route 30 here pointing to the downtown shopping area are two more indications of a reawakened interest in community progress.

The two developments help to further erase talk of a "do-nothing" attitude and quiet ill-founded charges that spring from too many non-thinking sources.

It is always a shock to find out that an admired writer or other person had some human failings which made his life sorrowful and brought him to a bad end. Seems there has been a spate of such revelations lately. But as is often said, a person's work should be judged on its merits. Similarly, it is surprising how many famous historical characters were executed by their contemporaries. Watch your step, Twill.

That is too doleful a note to end a letter with so here is a ray of sunshine: a ray of sunshine.

The most common minimum marrying age in the U. S. is 21 years for men and 18 for women — or 18 and 16 with parental approval. However, the bride can be as young as 14 in eight states and the bridegroom as young as 15 in two states and 16 in ten states.

An estimated 34 million men, women, and children in the U.S. spent about $3 billion last year on the sport of fishing — about $300 million of this on tackle, and the rest for auxiliary equipment such as tents and boats, camp fees, transportation, food and lodging, and fishing licenses.

While the common variety of cold is not taken too seriously by the average person, estimates have placed its cost in terms of work days lost in American industry at nearly $2 billion — and this does not include the cost of medical treatment.

The Innocent Bystander

Test Site Strike Hurts Labor Image

By Victor Riesel

One Irritated White House adviser shouted the other day that perhaps President Kennedy should have consulted the Hod Carriers' and Common Laborers' Union as well as Chairman Khrushchev before signing the nuclear test ban treaty.

The treaty, at least, gives the country the right to explode nuclear devices underground. The laborers' union appears to have a veto over that right—and has just exercised that veto.

On Oct. 17, local labor leaders at the Nevada atomic test site, 90 miles northwest of Las Vegas, shut down the nation's prime nuclear test base.

The union officials moved without much notice. At first a few laborers struck. Then they were backed up by the Las Vegas Building and Construction Trades Council. Soon 3,000 men were out.

And, the United States was deprived of the only nuclear test site available since the international ban on atomic explosions on the land, in the sea and in the air.

UNTIL THAT Thursday, Oct. 17, the Atomic Energy Commission, working with the Pentagon, had been exploding one "device" a week. As these highly classified mechanisms check out, they are fitted into "weapons."

The test flow must be continuous. There are no fixed dates for the tests so long as they move along consistently.

The size of the explosion generally determines the time needed between each one. But, a certain number must be completed in a fixed time—the length of which is top secret.

Much of the work consists of deep tunneling and excavation of "rooms." There are also huge drills, which look like oil rigs or some Martian invaders.

The drills dig fantastically wide and deep holes. Then the complex and expensive instruments are lowered into the holes or run into the "rooms."

Obviously, the work must be done speedily—and without intermittent delays—to avert any natural changes in the man-made caverns to keep the sensitive instruments "healthy."

THUS THERE HAS been much talk about labor peace, understanding and good fellowship among the rank and file, the labor leaders, the government men and the executives of the Reynolds Electric and Engineering Co. This firm handles the vast diggings.

So, on Oct. 10, there was considerable fanfare and breaking of bread. A joint administrative council was created. The local union officials pledged not to be strike-happy. They promised to give this joint board three days notice of any strike, should such an improbable moment ever come.

Exactly one week later, it came. James Ryan, the Hod Carriers' and Common Laborers' business agent, had his men on the picket line. Mr. Ryan also is the head of the Las Vegas Building and Construction Trades Council, which is part of the joint board which was hailed as a great masterpiece of labor statesmanship.

Why the strike? The Reynolds Company had finished some digging work for a specific project. It then laid off some men, which is not unusual procedure. But among the laid-off workers were two shop stewards. The rule is that the union must get advance notice of steward layoffs.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — A Croatian Women's Club of Midland was organized with Mrs. John Klucarish as president.

Miss Sara Neiser of Michigan Ave. conducted a two - week evangelistic campaign at the Anderson Methodist Episcopal Church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — A contribution of $200 for the Hi-Teen Center, to be established at the YMCA, was made by the Rotary Club.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. announced that exchange names like "Fulton" and "Evergreen"

UNION PEOPLE said there was no such notice. The company said there was. No one was quite sure what was happening—except on the picket line. The common laborers' union soon had support from all construction workers — and, at the last count, the Atomic Energy Commission people here were sweating out a loss of more than 9,000 man days on this prime—and only—nuclear weapons test site permitted us now.

Under the Oct. 10 peace pact, the union should have gone to the new joint board. The strikers were bound by the agreement to avoid walkouts at least until the peace-making machinery had a chance to function. And we are talking about a critical atomic weapons base now—not some future hike on the moon.

None of this does labor's image any good. That image already has been blurred by a threatened stoppage of transport to the Merritt Island, Fla. moon shot base; by a long electrical brotherhood strike affecting batteries for atomic submarine propulsion, and by a walkout at key buildings in the Oak Ridge, Tenn. atomic city.

Any labor dispute can be negotiated peacefully in time—as long as we have the weapons ready to guarantee us the time to settle our internal problems.

School And Solution

Showdown Expected On Education Funds

At last, if Congress lets stand a bill just passed by the Senate, there's to be a showdown on the question of whether it is constitutional to use public funds to help church - affiliated colleges or schools. The bill authorizes $1.9 billion in construction aid over a five-year period to the nation's public and private colleges and universities.

During the last two years, however, federal aid to education has been blocked in Congress because one side or the other would raise doubts on the constitutionality of such aid to any church - related institutions. President Kennedy didn't clear things up either when he once said to Congress that financial aid "across the board" is unconstitutional. He also declared that loans or grants made to church - supported schools at the college level would be constitutional but wouldn't be valid if made to those in the elementary or secondary category.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., formerly an associate justice in the highest court of that state, is the author of an amendment which was inserted in the Senate bill the other day and which furnished an opportunity to resolve constitutional questions promptly.

It provides that public notice must be given by the U. S. commissioner of education of any grant or loan at least 60 days before it is to be extended to any institution of higher education.

During those 60 days — and only within that period — any taxpayer or organization of taxpayers in the United States can sue for a declaratory judgment against the commissioner in the Federal District Court of the District of Columbia.

THE GROUNDS for such a test are limited to a challenge under the First Amendment, which forbids the passage by Congress of any law "respecting an establishment or religion," or under the Fifth Amendment or any other provision of the Constitution which presumably bears on the issue of separation of church and state.

Thus, there would be no delay in the processing of loans or grants that go to colleges unrelated to any church.

The courts would have to decide whether money for bricks and mortar furnished to a Catholic college, for instance, is support for a particular religion in the sense that, by this step, Congress has passed a law "respecting an establishment or religion."

Sen. Ervin points out that his amendment "provides a very simple machinery by which to question the validity of a specific proposed grant or loan to a specific institution," but one which at the same time "wouldn't hold up the program at all as to public colleges or non-sectarian private colleges."

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

May I through your column thank the night operator of the Bell Telephone Co. for her words of comfort at 1:20 a. m. Tuesday, but to the person who made two hoax calls I would say read your Bible.

In it you will find the good words, Love Ye one and other as I have loved Thee. It was not brotherly love to be awakened from my sleep by the telephone just to hear the words, "Your sister is dead," by some person who must not have sense nor feeling as my sister is 4,360 miles away in Wales.

If the person who made the call is lonely, do as I do when I get homesick — start cleaning, scrub, sew, darn, do anything to keep your mind off it. Don't bother other people as my telephone is to me not a toy or whatnot on the wall, but a useful thing.

I leave these words with you. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you, and always return good for bad. That's what we are on this earth for; you will find it makes life worthwhile.

MRS. CATHERINE NORRIS
713 W. 9th St.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We wish to publicly express our sincere thanks and appreciation to Mr. Gene Gilbert of Boyd St., Dixonville, for what he is doing for the young boys of the neighborhood.

For years people have been talking about the matter of something being done or started for the youngsters to keep them entertained and busy, but that was all it amounted to until, as the old saying goes,

Out of the test cases which may be brought under his amendment, he expects a broad ruling that could apply to the whole question of any use of public funds for construction of buildings or other facilities in church-related colleges or universities.

Other controversial questions arise in connection with the use of federal funds for student courses devoted to science, mathematics and technical subjects taught in buildings confined to this field of study.

FOR SEVERAL YEARS Congress ignored the objections and, for example, gave tuition money to GI veterans and aid to colleges for construction of laboratories and other scientific facilities.

Until the last year or two the constitutionality of these loans or grants was not questioned in public debate. There was, indeed, no way by which they could be challenged in the courts. For the Supreme Court of the United States, in a case known as Massachusetts vs. Mellon, had decided several years ago that the federal government couldn't be sued by a taxpayer on a question of federal appropriations.

That's why a permissive statute now is deemed necessary if there is to be a settlement of the issues that have arisen about federal aid to church-related institutions.

The amendment proposed by Sen. Ervin — co - sponsored by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky. — will have to win the approval of the conferees of the House of Representatives, which passed a bill without any similar provision.

Already there are predictions of a lengthy hassle on the subject. But there are good reasons for letting the provisions of the amendment be tried out for it means that bills providing federal aid to education to institutions which are not connected in any way with a church will have smooth sailing in Congress and will not be blocked by the perennial demand that something be done to remove the discrimination against church-connected colleges in their teaching of science and other non-religious subjects.

IF, HOWEVER, the amendment is dropped out of the proposed law, it seems likely that senators and representatives from areas where there is a public demand for help for church - connected colleges will find themselves being pressured to block federal aid altogether till some compromise is reached.

That's why the Ervin Amendment looks like a solution that will remove the principal obstacle to federal aid to education by letting the courts quickly dispose of the issue of the constitutionality of such aid to church-operated schools and colleges. It's much better to provide a way to find out promptly what is constitutional than to let Congress become stalled year after year on its aid to the states in constructing new buildings for educational purposes.

Mr. Gilbert took the bull by the horns and did a lot of hard work and running around and got a little league football team started. This team is known as "The Dixonville Vikings". So to Mr. Gilbert, we all wish to say, "Thanks, Gene, and keep up the good work! We are all behind you and will do all we can to help you!"

Now Mr. Gilbert being the gentleman and kind of man he is would be the first to tell you that he has had a lot of help from many people, including his staff of assistant coaches and managers and many more. We all wish to express our thanks and appreciation to Mr. Gilbert, as we feel if he hadn't done all the hard work and running around that he did that there would still be just talk and no action.

So once again we wish to say, "Thanks, Gene, and keep up the good work, and we will do all we can to help you!"

From the people of Dixonville Community.

Police Headquarters Will Get Electric Sign

A new electric sign has been ordered to mark the Peach Alley entrance to police headquarters at the rear of City Hall. Chief Americo J. Radeschi said today.

Designed particularly as an aid to travelers, the sign will be erected so that it will be visible from both W. 5th and W. 6th Sts., the chief said. Acting with authority of Council, he ordered the sign from the Central Neon Sign Co. of Calcutta at a cost of $103.

The sign will be two feet square with six-inch letters reading: "Police Headquarters." A small neon sign erected at the entrance about 20 years ago has been out of service for months, the chief said.

Greek Wins Nobel Prize In Literature

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Greek Poet Giorgos Seferis was awarded the 1963 Nobel Prize in literature today. Seferis, a 63-year-old diplomat, is the first Greek ever to receive a Nobel prize.

The 18-member Royal Swedish Literary Academy said Seferis was awarded the 265,000 crown ($51,158) prize "for his eminent lyrical writing, inspired by a deep feeling for the Hellenic world of culture."

"Seferis' poetic production is not great in size, but because of its unique thought and style, and its beauty of language, it has become a lasting symbol of all that is indestructible in the Hellenic acceptance of life," the academy's permanent secretary, Dr. Anders Osterling, said in his citation.

"When reading Seferis we are forcibly reminded of a fact that is sometimes forgotten: Geographically Greece is not only a peninsula but also a world of water and a thousand islands, an ancient sea kingdom, the perilous and storm home of the mariner. This Greece is the constant background of his poetry, in which it is conjured up as a vision of harsh and tender greatness."

The academy announcement added that "it has given the Swedish academy great pleasure, through this prize to Giorgos Seferis, to pay tribute to the Greece of today, whose wealth of literature has perhaps waited too long for its laurel wreath in this connection."

Group Protests Plans For New Precincts

NEW CUMBERLAND — A delegation of Weirton residents protested to the Hancock County Court Wednesday night that a proposal to create two new precincts on Weirton Heights is insufficient.

The delegation headed by Mayor Frank Rybka urged county officials to create more than two.

The court is considering a plan to add two precincts because each of the present seven precincts has more than 900 voters registered.

Commissioners are scheduled to take final action at the meeting Dec. 2.

Firemen Called As Fire Spreads

Lawrenceville firemen were summoned to battle a brush fire along Route 30 on the Chester hill early today, one which has been spreading intermittently for over a week.

The blaze, which firemen tried to quell over the weekend in the Hilltop area, has moved downhill to opposite the Terrace Lanes bowling alley, spreading through burning roots beneath the ground, Jack Stover, fire department president, said.

Firemen fought the blaze Wednesday night from 7 to 10 and were called back again at 2:30 a. m., remaining until 5.

J. W. Cornell, Chester contractor, bulldozed fire lanes around the area Wednesday in an effort to prevent the spread.

Midland Child Injured When Struck By Auto

Ray Scales, 3, son of Samuel Scales, 406 Midland Ave., Midland, was in "fair" condition today at Rochester General Hospital with injuries suffered when struck by an auto Wednesday about 5 p. m. on Midland Ave.

Police said the child darted into the path of an auto driven by Marilyn J. Wolfe, 439 Thompson Ave., East Liverpool. The youngster started across the street after spotting his aunt on the opposite side.

Police said the cruiser happened to be following the Wolfe car and officers verified that she was traveling only about 15 miles an hour. The boy suffered possible head injuries and injuries of the right leg and left thigh.

New CHEVELLE!

by Chevrolet

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe (foreground) with Malibu Super Sport Convertible

Only this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. The Chevelle is a highly polished car on a trim 115-inch wheelbase. With its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. All of which makes it a sweet-handling, easy-to-manuever automobile.

But it's roomy and relaxing inside, with the kind of ride you'd expect in a bigger car. And it's styled with a lively grace and refinements (note the curved side windows and pillars, for example) that make its modest price all the more remarkable.

A neat trick? We agree. But not so difficult really when you have the skills of seasoned Body by Fisher craftsmen to draw upon.

And the advantage of Full Coil suspension developed by the same engineering talent that came up with the Jet-smooth Chevrolet's ride. And that irrepresible Chevrolet spirit in a choice of four engines—V8 or 6—including optional-at-extra-cost versions all the way up to 220 hp. Small wonder this one turned out the way it did.

Did we say one? Actually there are 11 models—wagons, sedans, sport coupes, convertibles—in three series.

Even some cars that have been around for quite a long time don't give you a choice like that.

Sound like something you ought to check into further? Consider this your invitation for a real hood-raising, door-slaming, seat-bouncing, wheel-turning time of it at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Heart Victim's Rites Set At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Services will be held Saturday for James A. Evans, 53, of Rogers Addition, who apparently died of a heart attack Wednesday before his truck veered off a highway near Philadelphia and struck a concrete abutment.

Authorities said the truck was seen to swerve to the left while heading east on Route 30 near Ardmore, and went over the center line, grazing an auto, then turning to the right to ram a concrete wall.

Mr. Evans, of 320 E. Lyons Ave., a driver-mechanic for the Adamson Manufacturing Co., had left here yesterday morning with a partial load of tanks for the firm's plant in New Jersey.

Authorities said the large flat-bed truck crashed near Philadelphia about 10 a. m.

He was born here Oct. 10, 1910, a son of James S. Evans and Sarah Ann Sheppard Evans, and had resided here all his life.

An employee of Adamson since 1951, he served in the Army in World War II, and was a member of the Church of Christ and the Eagles Lodge.

He was married in 1946 to Kathryn White.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two daughters, Rebecca Ann Evans and Bonita Kay Evans, and a son, James L. Evans, all at home; four sisters, Mrs. Paul Braheny, Mrs. John Harding and Mrs. Ruth Hawkes of East Palestine, and Mrs. Lilly Duffy of San Fernando, Calif., and a brother, Harold Evans of Leetonia.

Charge Dropped Against Youth In Check Thievery

Acting at the request of the sheriff's department, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today dismissed a larceny charge against James Everhart, 19, of 800 Dresden Ave., accused of theft of a $126.25 check on Oct. 3 from Riverview Greenhouses.

The sheriff's office advised the court restitution has been made to the concern for the alleged theft and pointed out that Everhart had spent 20 days in jail awaiting trial because he was unable to post a $1,000 bond set after his arrest. The affidavit was signed by Deputy James Gause.

Judge Chertoff lectured the youth sternly before dismissing the charge.

"You are just starting out in life and you are fortunate this charge has been dismissed or you might have a black mark on your record for the rest of your days," the judge said.

Police Capt. Robert H. Pyle said Everhart admitted theft of the payroll check when questioned Oct. 4 and confessed that he had cashed it at a downtown bank.

ELHS Must Stop Tomasovich-To-Williams Pass Team

The forward pass, which became an offensive football weapon back when Knute Rockne was playing for Notre Dame, should be very much in evidence Friday Night when undefeated Weirton, rated the best in the Mountaineer state, invades Patterson Field.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to fill Patterson Field to see if East Liverpool, on a two-game losing streak, can bounce back and pull an upset.

In addition to the football game, which should be a close one, a "battle of the bands" is on tap as Weirton's famous marching outfit, which has appeared in the Rose Bowl parade and last year toured Europe for the World Music Festival, will share the halftime break with the snappy 150-piece ELHS band.

The Potters have been brushing up on their pass defense this week in order to stop the combination of husky Mike Tomasovich and Ron (Fritz) Williams. The Tomasovich-to Williams team has accounted for a good share of the Weirton yardage this season. Tomasovich is rated a very accurate passer, but is not quite as good a runner as quarterback Bob Di-Stephano of Martins Ferry, who put on a dazzling show last week against the Potters.

Tomasovich was injured two weeks ago in the Triadelphia game and was off target last week when Weirton defeated Wheeling. He had only two completions in 11 attempts, but one was a touchdown strike.

Williams, when not snaring passes, plays safety on defense and is a threat on kickoff and punt returns.

He has returned several kickoffs for touchdown runs and in the Triadelphia game intercepted a pass from his safety position on the goal line and ran 100 yards for the TD.

Williams, who is "Mr. Basketball" in West Virginia and probably one of the finest hardwood men in the country, has converted some of his moves from the basketball court to the gridiron, giving fits to Weirton opponents.

To keep the defense honest and if the passing game isn't working, Weirton has a fine halfback in John Bryant, a 140-pound speedster, who is quick and carries the brunt of the Riders' running game. He is a junior.

Rounding out the backfield is halfback Ed Harvard, 150-pound senior, and fullback Dave Byrd, 165-pound senior.

The Weirton line isn't as heavy as the forward walls which the Potters have faced the last two weeks. Williams, who goes 175, will be at one end, with Bill West, also rated a good receiver, (160), at the other. Starting at tackles will be Dennis Bell

(180) and Floyd Gelini (210). The guards will be Nick Lettieri (165) and Bob Bennett (150). Rick Bepler (190) will start at center.

Weirton opened the season with a 21-6 victory over Charleston, then marched over Bellaire, 20-10; Steubenville Big Red, 24-13; Moundsville, 26-14; Follansbee, 40-0; Triadelphia, 33-13, and Wheeling, 14-0.

Weirton's defense has been rather tough, limiting seven opponents to 56 points, an average of eight per game. The Riders have blanked two foes, while not giving up more than two touchdowns to any.

Weirton is coached by Carl Fodor, who is in his second year. Last season the Riders turned in a 3 - 5 - 1 record.

For most of the season Weirton has been the No. 1 team on the official ratings from a point system compiled by the West Virginia Activities Commission.

Baltimore, Frisco Win NAB Tilts

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets and San Francisco Warriors may be ready to shake up the standings in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association this season.

The Bullets, playing as the Chicago Zephyrs a year ago, finished last in the Western Division with a dismal 25-55 record. The Warriors, despite the presence of scoring champion Wilt Chamberlain, didn't make the playoffs either as they allowed more points than any other NBA team.

Baltimore's young team is off to a 2-2 start after whipping the New York Knickerbockers 115-106 Wednesday night. Walt Belamy, the 6-foot-11 center of the Bullets, scored 45 points to increase his league-leading total for the season to 136 in four games.

San Francisco came from 10 points behind in the second half to edge the St. Louis Hawks 99-95. Chamberlain, shooting less because of Coach Alex Hannum's stress on team play, scored only 22 points but still managed to lead the San Francisco attack. Wilt averaged 44.8 points per game last year.

By winning, San Francisco upped its record to 2-1 and moved into a first place tie with defending division champion Los Angeles. The Lakers overcame a 19-point first quarter lead and defeated the Detroit Pistons 124-116.

Toledo Back Leads Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Gray, a versatile athlete who didn't score a point last season, leads the major college scorers halfway through the new football season although his Toledo team has lost four of its five games.

Gray also has gained more ground than any other major college player. He is the national punt return leader, is fifth in rushing with 424 yards from scrimmage and also has caught seven passes and has returned punts and interceptions. His grand total is 925 yards.

By scoring two touchdowns in a losing cause against Bowling Green last Saturday, Gray brought his scoring total to seven TDs and 42 points and took a four-point lead over three rivals — Vern Burke, Oregon State, Russ Vollmer of Memphis State and Henry Schichtle of Wichita.

Arnie, Jack 2-1 Favorites

PARIS (AP) — The United States pair of Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus today to sweep the board in the 72-hole Canada Cup golf tournament.

As players from 33 countries prepared to tee off in the first round today, the men laying odds made the United States favorites for the team competition followed by Australia and South Africa 6-1, and Spain and Japan 10-1.

Nicklaus, the 23-year-old Masters and U.S. Professional Golfers' Association champion, was a 3-1 favorite for the individual competition. Then came Palmer and Gary Player, of South Africa, at 4-1.

The Saint-nom-la-Breteche course, 11 miles from Paris, is France's newest course. It was laid out only about five years ago and stretches 6,834 yards with a par of 36-36-72.

The team and individual tournaments are played simultaneously.

Tech End May Play Again In Team's Final Contest

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Three days ago, Georgia Tech end Ted Davis convened a one-man kangaroo court. As judge and jury, he convicted himself of kicking an opponent in the face and sentenced himself to resign from the football team for "this terrible thing that I did in anger."

A higher court will review his case. Tech Coach Bobby Dodd said Wednesday that "I definitely will not use Davis in our next four games. But because of the attitude shown by Davis and my personal sympathy for a boy who made a mistake—though a big one—I plan to review his case following the Alabama game."

This would make Davis, a senior, available for the last game on the Tech schedule, against arch-rival Georgia.

Davis sent himself into exile

Monday after publicly apologizing for kicking Auburn halfback David Rawson in the face during a 29-21 loss to Auburn last Saturday.

Davis has made no personal appeal for another chance. But the Georgia Tech athletic office says it has received numerous requests for Davis' reinstatement. Some came from members of the Tech squad and others from Auburn supporters.

Dodd ran into another problem during the team's workout for Saturday's Tulane game when starting halfback Joe Auer was stepped on in a no-contact drill. But x-rays revealed there were no broken bones in the bruised foot and Auer is expected to be ready for the Green Wave.

Elsewhere around the country the injury list also was the main item of concern.

Arkansas fullback Jim Lindsey was kicked above the thigh pad in practice and suffered a severe bruise. He limped off the field, and may be lost for Saturday's game against Tulsa.

Pittsburgh, the nation's third-ranked team preparing for a meeting with 10th-ranked Navy, had end Bob Long in a hospital with a possible stomach or chest injury. Long said he was hit hard in the chest in last Saturday's victory over West Virginia.

REW, Pa. (AP)—It was nearly dark.

Football player Ken Woods, 16, took the ball in a pickup game and broke into the clear, heading for a touchdown.

A dark form appeared in his path. Ken sidestepped it and continued across the goal.

The form turned out to be a 350-pound bear, a frequent visitor the past several weeks in this McKean County town.

Three members of the Los Angeles Dodgers were born in Brooklyn. They are Sandy Koufax, Tommy Davis and Al Ferrara.

Yankees Ready To Name Yogi Berra 17th Manager

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Yogi Berra, the squat catcher with the quotable wit, is expected to become the 17th manager of the New York Yankees today.

The announcement will be made at a morning press conference just 48 hours after the one at which Ralph Houk, the man Berra is expected to succeed, was elevated to general manager. Houk, who led the Yankees to three pennants and two world championships in three years, succeeded Roy Hamey, who resigned because of ill health.

The naming of any one other than Berra would come as a complete surprise. A Yankee official told The Associated Press that Berra had known for several days the manager's job was his. Yogi himself has been in seclusion on orders from the front office.

That Berra was considered managerial timber came as a surprise to some but not to knowledgeable baseball people who respect Yogi's keen analytical mind, native intelligence and ability to get along with people.

Berra's imminent graduation from player-coaching ranks to the managership comes as no surprise to Casey Stengel, who led the Yankees to 10 pennants in 12 years before giving way to Houk in 1961.

"They did some surprising things while I was there," said the skipper of the New York Mets, "but this move doesn't surprise me at all."

"There's nothing wrong with Berra. He's been a catcher for many years, calling the pitches and studying the batters. I found him to be a good man behind the plate. He had to be or he wouldn't have been in all those Series and on those championship teams."

Stengel pointed out that Berra, 38, who has played 17 full seasons with the Yankees, should be familiar with all the pitchers and batters in the league.

Berra's Remarks Were Legendary

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — They used to laugh when you said Yogi Berra.

They used to go into hysterics over his naive remarks.

Because of his naivete and difficulty in expressing himself because of limited formal education, they kidded him, told anecdotes about him and attributed statements to him that bordered on the ridiculous.

Here are some of the more legendary Berraisms, some fact others fiction:

Casey Stengel once told of the day he asked Berra what he would do if he found a million dollars. Without batting an eye, Yogi replied:

"If the fellow who lost it was poor, I'd return it."

Berra's first roommate on the Yankees was Bobby Brown, a highly intelligent young man who was preparing for a medical career during the off season. One off day both were in their hotel room abso,bed in their favorite off-the-field pastime. Brown was reading a medical journal and Berra was reading a comic book. Finally, Brown put his book aside. Berra closed his book, looked up and asked, "How did yours come out?"

Once Berra was having a salary discussion with the Yankee front office and finally assistant general manager Roy Hamey arose from his chair and remarked, "Well, Yogi, I guess we've reached a stalemate."

"Never mind the budget stuff," snorted Yogi, "let's talk money."

Joe Page, former Yankee reliever, was telling his teammates about a hunting trip he had taken with Enos Slaughter.

"I never saw a hunter like Slaughter," Page said. "He's tireless. We were hunting birds in the woods and Enos ducked in and out of the bushes so hard he got a cyst on his back."

"What the hell kind of a bird is a cyst?" asked Berra.

One day Berra's wife, Carmen, bought a new piano. Impressed by the acquisition, Yogi sought out a writer who was known as a good piano player, and invited him to his house. "I got a new piano," Berra said, "and I want you to show me how it works."

Berra was honored by his old neighbors from the Hill section of St. Louis. He had to make a speech. He approached the microphone with knees trembling. His voice quivered as he spoke: "I wanna thank all you kind people," he said, "for making this night necessary."

Perfecta Payoff Of $1,849 At Waterford Sets Record

The fifth race perfecta at Waterford Park today came as a surprise to all but five persons who held the winning combination of 2-1, the order of finish, for a staggering payoff of $1,849.60, believed to be a record for the perfecta form of play in the United States.

Senrac J. Ridden by Jockey Robert Wilkerson, forged to the front at the start and under expert handling managed to go on and make every pole a winning one as Menotti held on gamely to take down the place. Senrac J. sadly neglected in the wagering, returned a record payoff for the meeting of $134.00, $46.40 and $9.00. Menotti paid $10.40 to place and $6.20 to show while the favored Teador, finishing third, paid $3.20 to show.

Fatal Copter Crash Blamed On Quill Shaft

WASHINGTON (AP)—A helicopter crash that took six lives at Idlewild Airport in New York on Oct. 14 has been attributed to failure of a part known as a quill shaft.

Leon H. Tanguay, director of the Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Safety, said failure of the shaft caused a rotor blade collision with a resulting loss of control over the craft.

Where Fund Dollars Go

THE YMCA's broad program for area youngsters—ranging from physical education and swimming classes to camp sessions at Pine Ridge—has established a long tradition of serving youth regardless of sex, age or color. The 'Y' is one of 10 agencies served by the East Liverpool Area Community Fund, its portion being $30,500. "Your fair share contribution will help continue this program," drive leaders declared.

Syracuse Star Picked Lineman-Of-Week

By OTTO DOELLING
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Linebacker Ed Conti of Syracuse University, Associated Press Lineman of the Week, once again carrying the football. Now he finds greater pleasure in getting an authoritative grip on opposing ball carriers.

The speedy 185-lb senior was named the week's top lineman Wednesday on the basis of defensive play that helped Syracuse shut out Penn State for the first time in 55 games.

Using speed and deception to evade brawnier blockers, Conti participated in 18 tackles, five unassisted, and recovered a key fumble when the Orange downed Penn State 9-0 last Saturday.

On the Orange roster, Conti is listed as a fullback. But he has carried the ball only once this season and gained two yards.

"He's too valuable to play offense," Coach Ben Schwartzwalder said. "Conti's been far and away our best defensive player all season."

Another standout defensive player figures high among the nominees for this week's honor. Mike Reilly, a 220-pound Iowa guard, led Iowa to a near upset of highly ranked Wisconsin last Saturday. The Badgers won 10-7.

The Notre Dame - U.C.L.A. game, won by the Irish 27-12, contributed three nominees: Notre Dame end Jim Kelly and guard Bob Lehmann, and UCLA end Mel Profit.

Twenty - three attended a screening of two hunter safety movies before the test. The films were free to the public.

MacLean said the Junior Rifle Club will resume its weekly meetings Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the City Hall rifle range. He said teams will be selected for postal matches to be held in November by the National Rifle Association. Team members shoot at targets which are then mailed to the national headquarters for grading and scoring.

Raiders' Back Star Of Week In AFL Play

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Clem Daniels, finding a second home in Oakland after being discarded by the old Dallas Texans, has been named Player of Week in the American Football League for his performance against the New York Jets.

Daniels, former Prairie View collegian, was dropped from the title-bound Dallas club, now the Kansas City Chiefs, in 1962 and dumped on a last place team. He started the '63 season in high gear but was hampered by a bruised leg for four games.

The Oakland halfback just missed tying the AFL record set by Billy Cannon, who gained 216 yards in one game in 1961. Daniels wound up with 200 yards in 27 carries last Sunday including touchdown runs of 74 and 8 yards. He also scored on a 56-yard pass from Cotton Davidson, another refugee from the old Texans. As a result the Raiders knocked the Jets out of first place in the league's Eastern division 49-26.

Gino Cappelletti went on a one-man scoring binge for the Boston Patriots in a 40-21 romp over Denver Friday night. Gino, already the scoring leader, added 22 points for a season total of 69. He booted field goals of 24, 34, 42 and 32 yards, kicked four extra points and caught a 24-yard touchdown pass from Babe Parilli. He drew plaudits in The Associated Press survey.

Student Athletes Get Green Light From Track Unit

CHICAGO (AP)—The United States Track and Field Federation has given the green light to its student athletes to compete in any meets they want without strings attached.

The shift in policy, announced by USTFF executive director Charles (Chic) Werner, Wednesday gets the college trackmen off a hot seat in the prolonged battle with the AAU.

The policy, approved by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was named an arbitrator by President Kennedy a year ago in the feud between the federation and the AAU, will be in effect until Nov. 1, 1964.

The USTFF says the year of truce would make possible that the U.S. is represented by its best athletes in the 1964 Olympics at Tokyo.

Mantle 'Fine', Due To Leave Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' $100,000-a-year center fielder, says he is "doing fine" and expects to leave the hospital this weekend.

Mantle underwent an operation, last week on his left knee for removal of a loose cartilage.

Hearing Planned On Traffic Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Wednesday at 9 a. m. for Donald Ingram, 520 1st Ave., who pleaded not guilty on a charge of driving after his operator's permit was suspended.

Ingram was arrested at 9:10 p. m. Wednesday at E. 5th and Walnut Sts. by Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes, police reported.

Ingram pleaded guilty to a second charge of speeding 80 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." Sentence was deferred pending the trial of the license charge.

Police said Ingram was carrying a note on the letterhead of County Judge Herbert E. Arfman of East Palestine saying that his driver's license was suspended for six months, effective Oct. 10, and "the court permitted driving privileges for work only." Ingram's bond was set at $25. He is represented by Atty. Bernard Fineman.

Major Leagues Face Some? From Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP)—Major league baseball faces some pointed questioning on Capitol Hill next winter about its "generosity" toward newcomers and perennial weak sisters in the American and National Leagues.

Sen. Phil A. Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee and a former baseball man himself, told a reporter today he plans a "low pressure" inquiry, but he said he hoped it would drive home some points and be helpful.

The subject will arise during a usually active baseball player trading period—sometime after the first of January—when his subcommittee takes a look at baseball's exempt status under the antitrust laws.

The business affairs of all other professional team sports are subject to antitrust regulation, but not baseball's. The subcommittee plans to inquire whether Congress should treat them all alike.

There has been grumbling by fans and some club managements that strong teams tend to stay strong, while weak ones tend to stay weak, because

Beautiful In Black

"I love black," Susan Strasberg said in the gloom of Sardi's.

Her lovely eyes were hidden, except during the hellos and goodbyes, behind black sunglasses; a wide-brimmed black hat, shaped like a Spanish priest's, was tied under her chin; except for her hands and the lower half of her small and perfect face, the girl was sheathed in black. "Black," she said, "can make you look mysterious and glamorous. It can make you look startling or anonymous, or mature, or young."

SHE HAD just come from the Actors Studio, which is run by her father, Lee Strasberg, and where she'd been practicing her Chinese movements?

"Yes," she said. "There are 30 sets and they are pronounced gie-gee-wan, though I don't know how to spell them."

"It's taken me six months to learn the first 10 sets, which isn't bad considering that it took the Chinese thousands of years. Let me give you an idea."

She stood, that pretty little spy, and moved her hands and body very slowly in a graceful dance and then sat down, her wan cheeks flushed to pink.

WE GOT to business. The girl, with her long-run Broadway engagement as "Anne Frank" and some Hollywood movies behind her, was headquartered in Europe for many months. But she's back now, happy in her blacks, and raring to go.

Tonight she'll show up in a "Dr. Kildare" episode as a troublesome and romantically inclined patient—"a good part," she says, "in a slightly illogical melodramatic story."

And later in the season, there's a "theater" melodrama.

THE WORD "mediocrity" came up.

"American movies and television have slipped into the safe, unimaginative, creeping mediocrity of the times. The Europeans, even when they're not good, at least show a viewpoint and a commitment."

"Here we no longer tolerate temper—or, rather, temperament, which is a different thing. Even the fine actors accept that pallid middle level."

"If all an actress wants is money, stardom, her name in lights, then she should quit, because mediocrity is a slaphappy way to get these things. "Everything the producers and money people do must be on a mass level. And when you make something that's palatable to the whole world, isn't it bound to lose something in translation?"

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Mother Should Exercise After Baby's Born

Why do measurements spread six weeks after the arrival of the baby? It's because overly stretched abdominal muscles, when not restored to tone, become flabby and fat-infiltrated.

Just at first, the abdomen feels gloriously fat. Don't be fooled into thinking nature will restore tone to these middle muscles without your help. It's the most important time in a woman's life for taking contraction calisthenics.

New Mothers, you can get enthusiastic about taking post pregnancy exercises when you see shape-ups as the sure way of keeping a beautifully trim figure for the rest of your life.

IN NORMAL CASES, you can begin exercises toward the end of the first week, and feel stronger for doing so. Talk with your own doctor about the exercises you can take at an early date. Most doctors have a few favorites they suggest.

Today's routine can, in normal cases, be started the third week following the arrival of the baby. The number of times to perform each exercise depends upon your strength. Stop before you are tired.

Position: Lying on back, knees bent, soles of feet flat on floor, arms down at sides.

Movement: Resting weight on soles of feet and shoulders, raise the abdomen and hips from the floor, pulling up and in firmly with the abdominal muscles. Fling arms back of head. Return to position and repeat, not more than 5 times.

Position: Get on knees, bend forward and rest head on folded arms, having knees and hips in vertical line.

MOVEMENT: Holding one leg straight out, raise it back and up as high as possible, at the same time pulling up-and-in with the abdominal muscles. Return to position and do the same with the other leg. Repeat two or three times only.

Position: Kneeling with head resting on folded arms. Hips and knees should be in vertical line.

Movement: Forcibly contract the abdominal muscles by pulling up-and-in strongly—hold. Repeat three times, then relax.

Exercises for the first four weeks following the baby's arrival are included in the leaflet After The Baby Comes. The leaflet Away With The Middle Spread, contains progressive abdominal exercises, beginning with easy ones and working into a more rugged routine. Check with your doctor before taking any calisthenics.

Send long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for After The Baby Comes. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

21 Free On Bond In Wake Of Raids On Gaming Spots

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Twenty one Toledoans were free on bonds of $2,000 and $3,000 today after their arraignment following a series of raids on gambling spots.

Twenty were arrested Wednesday as 130 Internal Revenue Service agents and two U.S. marshals raided 11 places and seized large quantities of equipment. Another person allegedly involved in the gambling activities surrendered Wednesday night.

Kenneth Cannon, chief IRS agent in Toledo, said the places raided were involved in the numbers rackets and estimated their combined take at $75,000 a week.

At their arraignment, the 21 persons demanded preliminary hearings. They were charged with failure to file with the IRS for gambling tax stamps.

The raiders reportedly broke down a door at one home in the West End and found money and alleged gambling equipment concealed in a second-floor room.

Cannon said IRS agents participating in the raids were from Toledo, Detroit, Cleveland, Indiana, Louisville and Parkersburg, W.Va.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What can we do about a woman in our neighborhood?

There are several families on this street and we all have young children. Naturally, children fight. This mother is forever rushing out of her house and becoming involved in the battles of her 4 and 5-year-olds. She hits the youngster, sometimes in the face or on the head, with a rolled-up magazine, a mixing spoon—or whatever she is holding in her hands at the moment.

Yesterday I happened to be looking out the window and I saw her take a swipe at my 3-year-old. I immediately went over and asked her what she thought she was doing. She replied, "Your child took my Harvey's bottle of ants."

Please don't suggest that I reason with her because it is impossible. Please suggest something workable.—END OF MY ROPE.

Dear Rope: Instruct your children to stay out of the woman's yard. If she puts a foot on your property—either to referee or to take over for her kids—tell her she is trespassing and it is against the law.

Dinner Date

Dear Ann: Last Sunday I was invited to have supper in a restaurant with my boy friend and his parents. I'm not quite 13, and I'm a boy, too, so don't jump on my head for dating so young.

I was embarrassed when they asked me to order first because I didn't know how much money they wanted to spend on me. Everything seemed pretty high. I didn't know whether to order a whole dinner or a sandwich or what. Really, it was horrible.

I stumbled around for a long time and then said I would have a peanut butter and jelly sandwich because it was all I could think of. Everyone else ordered a whole dinner and I felt like a fool.

Please tell me what to do next time. Maybe the next family I eat with won't be able to afford whole dinners for everybody.—RED FACE.

Dear Red: Your best bet is to say you can't decide what you want and ask the others to please go ahead and order so you can get an idea. Then order something similar.

Fish Bait

Dear Ann: I've been going steady with this fellow for seven months. He is 26 and I am 24. He is very sweet to me but there's something fishy about this guy. He has dinner at our house at least twice a week. My folks like him a lot and have offered him the guest room when the weather has been bad and his car was in the shop. (He lives on the other side of town.)

In all the time we've been going together he has never suggested that I meet his folks. He has told me about his mother and father and sister and they sound like fine people.

I have seen his home (from the outside) and it is beautiful. He can't possibly be ashamed of it.

Don't you think seven months of chit-chat is enough? He wants to be serious but I don't want to get involved with a fellow who is afraid or ashamed to introduce me to his family. What do you say?—HAD ENUFF.

Dear Enuff: You bet there is something fishy about this guy. No girl should tie herself up for seven months just for a halibut. Throw him back in the tank.

Confidentially

TO DIZZY FROM THIS DAME: Marriage will not "straighten her out," so don't count on the miracle. A girl who has eyes for your brother, your boss and the delivery man doesn't sound like very promising marriage material.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

3 Ohioans Cited In $2,000 Theft

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Three Ohioans charged with stealing $2,000 from an elderly immigrant at Benwood, W.Va., were to be turned over to West Virginia authorities today.

Picked up after the theft Wednesday were Leo Ely, 51, his wife, Helen, 34, and Burl Ely, 48, all of Toledo.

The victim, Adolph Lydzinskey, about 80, told police a woman approached him as he left his Benwood home and asked if he wanted help to cross the street.

Lydzinskey said he refused and that the woman went away. A short time later, however, he discovered his wallet was missing. Highway patrolmen who arrested the Ohioans said they found $1,760 stuffed in a pillow inside their car.

Lydzinskey, a Polish immigrant who never learned to speak English, said through an interpreter that he has carried his life savings on his person since the Benwood bank failed in 1929.

13 Demonstrators Arrested In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Acting under the city's "unwelcome guest" statute, police Wednesday night arrested 13 civil rights demonstrators who entered a real estate office and refused to leave.

The group included the Rev. Arthur Zebbs, chairman of the Columbus chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality who was arrested for the second time in as many days.

The missionary theme was "Christian Missions in Southern Asia."

Mrs. Mildred Boso of the local church, was organist for a morning hymn sing.

Republican Aspirants Speak To 30 At Women's 'Coffee'

Five Republican candidates headed by Merrill D. Hall, mayorally nominee, addressed a group of 30 women Wednesday at the first of a series of "coffee" to be held in each of the four wards.

Mrs. Marie Tweed served as hostess at the home of Miss Gladys DeBolt, 225 W. 4th St. Mrs. Ruth Crawford, president of the East Liverpool Area Republican Women's Club and co-manager of Hall's campaign, poured.

Hall presented his 10 - point platform, declaring, "As your candidate for mayor, I also feel I must tell you that I favor the wage tax as a means to an end — progress. To operate a city effectively, we must have funds. But I will stand by my pledge to allow the voters to settle the wage tax issue, regardless of my opinion, refusing to endorse it later unless the people want a change."

"East Liverpool is a city at a turning point — it can go up, down or stay the same. Our city begs for reform, for progress."

"I can tell you that I am not 'just in favor of new streets' as some are, but will work to see that those who need them get them; and that adequate repairs are made under my administration."

Also addressing the women were Lawrence Zollinger, candidate for auditor; Robert W. Sample Jr. and A. Stanley Kidder, candidates for Council-at-large, and S. James Welch, Third Ward candidate.

Kenneth C. Berg, incumbent candidate for Second Ward who is hospitalized in Pittsburgh, sent a message asking for support.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Mommies: Halloween does roll around! For those who give parties at this time of the year I would like to pass on a few ideas I learned from some of my neighbors:

Buy some oranges and cut a small piece off the end of each one. Set aside these "tops" because you're going to need them later.

Take a sharp knife and cut out the inside of the oranges... then take a spoon and scrape out all of the remaining pulp.

Draw a Halloween face on one side of each orange shell with an ink marker.

These shells may be filled with scoops of ice cream, gelatin, or... if you are in a real party mood they may even be filled with tuna fish salad, or just about anything.

If you are going to use ice cream, put the orange shells in to your refrigerator and chill them. After they are thoroughly cold... scoop some ice cream or sherbert into them and serve; or, you may add the "tops" you cut off. Makes it look like a hat on a clown.

Then take an ice pick and a punch a hole in the top of these "caps". Put little birthday candles in each hole. Light the candles before serving and bring them in the dining room on a tray and just watch your guests gasp...

FOR DESSERT, about the yummiest thing I have found to put in these orange shells is orange sherbert. And, ladies, if you use orange sherbert do not scoop out too much of the pulp from the inside. This lends more flavor.

I also discovered, after making this dessert about five times, that if I cut off a minute slice from the bottom of the orange it will sit flat on the plate. However, these may be served in sherbert glasses, small bowls or on your dessert plates.

To make it really festive, sometimes I let the sherbert melt slightly and add the orange pieces (after cutting them into small bits) to the sherbert before refreezing. I then put the orange sherbert back inside the shell. Wow! Happy eating.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE: I have three children, two in grade school and one pre-schooler. When school started my youngest child felt very lonesome and did not have much of an appetite after the others went off to school with their lunch bags and books. Then I hit upon an idea...

When packing lunch for the two children who went to school, I pack a third lunch—yes, even down to the brown paper bag and napkin.

How very pleased my pre-schooler is, and how grown up he feels to have his own lunch... just like his older brother and sister!

Now he eagerly looks forward to lunch time when he gets his lunch bag from the refrigerator.

MARY TAILLARD.

DEAR HELOISE: Getting rid of leaves is easy if you collect them into piles and then rake them onto an old tarpaulin, plastic cloth or shower curtain. (This is much easier than using a basket and it saves picking up the leaves by hand. Also you can carry much more at one time.)

Then drag the cloth to the compost heap (or trash pile) and alternate a layer of leaves with a layer of good garden dirt. Next year you will have a supply of good rich soil.

MRS. JOHN HAGER.

DEAR HELOISE: The seeds from annuals, such as zinnias and marigolds, can be collected and saved in baby food jars for the next year's planting. If divided by colors in these small jars and so labeled, one can plan greater color arrangements for the following season.

BONNIE WELLS.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

National Steel Projects Seen

DETROIT — Two of the greatest projects in the steel industry in recent years were unveiled this week at the Great Lakes Steel Corp. — a huge, completely computer-controlled 80-inch hot strip mill and the largest basic oxygen steel plant in the world.

The plants at Ecorse and River Rouge are part of a vast modernization program of the parent firm, the National Steel Corp. which also operates the Weirton Steel Co.

The 80-inch mill is in a building big enough to hold six football fields and at places is as high as 22 stories. Yet its computer controls are designed not only to feed the huge slabs of steel through the reducing rolls but to adjust for any variations in temperature, and alert for any malfunction in the mill.

The mill, at River Rouge, has a capacity of 3,600,000 tons of coils of steel in a year.

Of equal interest to industry observers was the basic oxygen steel plant at Ecorse where two 300-ton furnaces which began operation in October, 1962, have a rated capacity of 2,000,000 tons a year.

The unit represents the industry's farthest advance in this branch of steel technology which was brought to America from Europe.

National's plans also include the vacuum degassing and continuous casting installation at the Weirton Steel Division now under construction at Weirton.

Saxbe Uninjured In Crash. Gives Seat Belt Credit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William Saxbe credits seat belts with preventing injuries when his car crashed off Interstate 71 near Mount Vernon Wednesday night.

The car in which he was riding left the highway at high speed, bounced high in the air, then came to a stop on its wheels in the grassy median strip.

Neither Saxbe nor his driver were hurt but he said he was sure it was because they were wearing seat belts.

Saxbe was en route to Canton to speak at a Republican rally. His car was not disabled, and he kept the engine running.

The incident was reported by Norman Stern, 1042 Huston Ave. He said the thief broke the vent window, then reached inside to unlock the auto door.

The thief also pried open the glove compartment while ransacking the auto, he said.

Joseph Frable, 817 Cadmus St., told police yesterday afternoon a luggage rack valued at $12.95 was stolen from his auto sometime between Oct. 15 and last Saturday.

Happy eating.

To Lay Off 450

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Armo Steel Corp. is laying off 450 workers who were hired this year and last year. Donald S. Holstein, works manager, said the layoffs were necessary because of reductions in vacation schedules and a lowered rate of operations. He said some of the workers may be recalled next month if business picks up.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOAP

QUESTION: How does soap make you clean?

ANSWER: Our bodies are covered with several million sweat glands which are tiny tubes opening through the skin. As the sweat evaporates, it cools the skin, regulating body heat. Dirt can clog up these pores, making us uncomfortable because the sweat glands can't do their work. But a good soaping breaks up the dirt into minute pieces so it can be flushed out with the water—then we feel fine again!

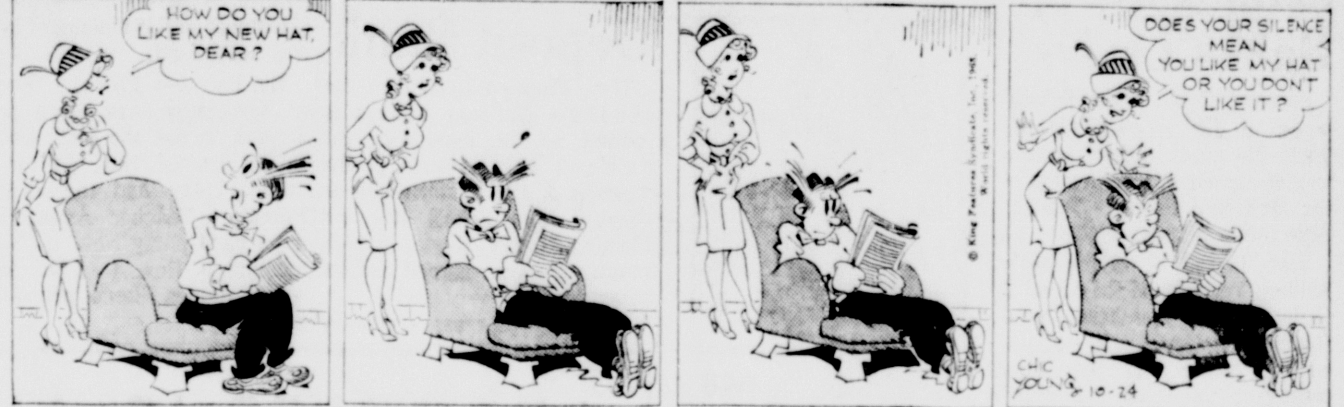

Just by itself, water doesn't penetrate a dirty or greasy surface, because its surface molecules pull together and try not to get separated. Soap breaks this "surface tension" so the water can work through and get at the dirt. Soap also breaks grease and oil into little droplets which can be rinsed away. Certain kinds of dirt are absorbed into the suds.

To make soap, huge quantities of fats, oils and soda are piped into kettles rising up to 80 feet high. Steam is used to heat this; then tons of salt go in and the mixture separates; the top part or soap curd is poured off and mixed with other materials to make soap. Palm oil, whale oil and coconut oil have all been used for soapmaking.

—FOR YOU TO DO: Try soap carving! Get a large bar of soft white soap, make a design and draw it on both sides. Then cut carefully down. Use an orange stick for scraping out small details. You can smooth it to an attractive polish with your fingers.

Teresa Magee of Charleston, S. C., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.
